PERSONNEL RISK ASSESSMENT POLICY

PURPOSE

ATC Management Inc. ('ATC' or the Company) believes that employing appropriately qualified, responsible individuals within ATC is critical to the Company's success. The Company is also committed to complying with all North American Electric Reliability Corporation ('NERC') Reliability Standards, including those associated with personnel and training. Therefore, ATC conducts Personnel Risk Assessments ('PRA') using a third-party service provider or requires suppliers to provide comparable PRA documentation.

SCOPE

The policy applies to ATC employees, prospective employees, and contingent workers.

DEFINITIONS

Personnel Risk Assessment (PRA) – Background evaluation to identify risk posed to ATC that may include, but is not limited to, the following: academic verification, prior employment verification, criminal records dating back a minimum of seven calendar years, driving records, identity verification (e.g. Social Security verification), credit check, and drug test (10 panel urine sample).

Contingent Worker – Any contractor, consultant or service provider, including local distribution companies and other interconnected entities, who require access to ATC facilities and/or cyber systems.

RESPONSIBILITIES

Human Resources is responsible for:

- Conducting PRAs, in conjunction with a third-party provider, under the following circumstances:
 - Hire of a new employee
 - Re-hire of a prior ATC employee, based up duration of break in service and access need
 - Promotion or transfer of an ATC employee, based upon access need
 - Contingent worker converting to an ATC employee, or vice-versa, based upon access need
 - At regularly scheduled intervals not to exceed seven years of employment/service for employees and contingent workers with applicable access subject to NERC CIP Standards
 - New contingent worker with:
 - Unescorted physical access to Company sites, including substations
 - On or off premise electronic resource access in accordance with Enterprise Information Management and Identity Access Management governance practices
- Communicating with the contingent worker's Point of Contact on the option to provide comparable PRA documentation, in lieu of ATC Human Resources conducting a PRA using ATC's third-party service provider
- Communicating with employees and prospective employees on the requirement to complete the PRA
- Reviewing the PRA results for ATC employees, prospective employees, contingent workers, and entering the data into the human capital management system
- Initiating escalation for review of any PRA information that is questionable

- Consulting with ATC Counsel and ATC's third-party service provider to issue an adverse letter to any individual with PRA results that do not meet ATC standards
- Working with ATC's third-party service provider to issue an adverse letter to the supplier of a denied contingent worker and notifying the ATC Sponsor

ATC employees, prospective employees, and contingent workers are responsible for:

- Completing a PRA using ATC's preferred third-party service provider, including all necessary third-party authorizations
- Requesting a copy of their background information from ATC's third-party service provider, if desired
- Appealing any adverse decisions by providing subsequent information, in writing, to augment or correct any PRA information, as necessary

Contingent Worker Points of Contact are responsible for:

- Coordinating completion of a required PRA with the contingent worker using ATC's third party vendor, or providing comparable PRA documentation to ATC Human Resources by completing the PRA Initial Screening Attestation or PRA Re-Screening Attestation form

DISQUALIFIERS

The following would prevent an employee, prospective employee, or contingent worker from working at, or on behalf of, ATC:

- Refusing to submit to a PRA or provide necessary authorizations
- Failing a drug test
- Discovering information on a background check that differs from what is listed on the job application
- Felony or misdemeanor convictions related to the core responsibilities as an ATC employee or contingent worker
- Other conditions as determined on a case-by-case basis

REPORTING

It is the responsibility of all ATC employees to report any suspected violations of this policy, in accordance with ATC's Open Door Policy.

EXCEPTIONS/VIOLATIONS

Exceptions to this policy require the approval of the Policy Owner listed above.

ATC Board Members receiving general (non-PSP) unescorted access are exempt from the PRA requirement. Other PRA's may be waived in exceptional circumstances or commensurate with documented provisions for emergency situations. Exceptions applicable to NERC CIP Standards require consultation with the NERC CIP Senior Manager or delegate.

Employees who violate this policy are subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination.

Contingent workers who violate this policy are subject to access denial or revocation.
